

CROWDS SURGE
OVER LONDON

The City Was Taxed to Its Capacity Today

BY THE SIGHT-SEEING PEOPLE

At Grand Banquet Last Night the Royal Gold Plate, Costing $15,000,000, Was Used, a Shakespeare Ball Was Also a Feature.

London, June 21.—The city is taxed to its capacity. It was coronation show day. Thousands flocked from the suburbs to see the decorations and watch the preparations for tomorrow's great event. The crowds formed an ever-moving mass from the Victoria embankment to Westminster Abbey, and thousands of them saw the dominion premiers come and pay homage to their sovereign.

Royal carriages and motor cars with crown-embellished hoods moved everywhere, carrying King George's guests. At intermission, services were held in the churches. Other attractions included driving the king and queen through the West End, a national horse show, a parade of foreign officers, the review of the Canadian troops by Sir Wilfrid Laurier, the Duke of Connaught's dinner to the king, innumerable luncheons and dances.

Upward of 2,000 ambulance men were placed on duty. There is every reason to expect a fine day tomorrow. John Hays Hammond, special American ambassador, had a quiet morning. The king's first public act after the coronation tomorrow will be laying the cornerstone for the fishermen and seamen's home of the Grenfell mission at St. John, Newfoundland. Immediately upon his return to Buckingham palace, cable land line connections will be established and his majesty will press a button for the inauguration of the cornerstone ceremony. When the king and queen drove out today, the street was hedged with dense masses of humanity, who cheered.

Enthusiasts are already beginning to take up the vantage points in the open parks along the route of tomorrow's royal progress, it being their intention to keep an all night's vigil. Early seekers of places were mostly provincials, who had traveled long distances to see the coronation show. Women, armed with camping outfits, seemed quite as ready as the men to spend the night bivouacking in the green park.

The most regal banquet palace of king or emperor ever witnessed and a gorgeous Shakespeare hall under the auspices of noted society leaders stand forth as features of yesterday. The banquet in Buckingham palace last night was a scene of imperial grandeur, so far as the assembly of royal and eminent personages, the setting of costly magnificence and beautiful decorations could make it. The king and queen entertained the visiting and English royalties, all the special foreign delegations, the foreign ambassadors and ministers, the officers of state and the household, the members of the cabinet and former cabinet members, the heads of the church and judiciary and of the army and navy.

The two largest apartments in the palace, the ball room and the picture gallery, which adjoin, were utilized as a banquet hall. On the tables was displayed the royal gold plate, used only on historic occasions, the cost of which is estimated at $15,000,000. It weighs eight tons. This plate for the most part was collected in the reigns of the four Georges. Cut glass worth a fortune, ivory decanters, hundreds of years old and old wines dating back more than a century were on the board.

The Shakespeare hall was held in Albert Hall. The dancers numbered thousands and 400 boxes were occupied by the representatives of foreign nations and the most prominent British officials. As many as 20 quadrilles were danced simultaneously, the participants representing groups of characters from Shakespeare's plays. Leading actors and actresses took part in these quadrilles along with the leaders of the smart set. The Duke and Duchess of Connaught, Prince Louis and Princess Victoria of Battenberg, Prince Alexander of Teck, Prince Henry of Prussia and the princess, the German Crown Prince Frederick William and the crown princess and the Turkish, Russian, Austrian, Japanese, Greek, Danish and American representatives were present.

GIANT OCEAN LINER
OLYMPIC REACHES
NEW YORK TODAY

The Olympic Made No Particular Efforts About Crossing, but Arrived Ahead of Time Today.

New York, June 21.—Twelve tugs pulled the White Star liner Olympic on her arrival here, warping the giant of the seas into her dock. The Olympic covered the course over in five days, 16 hours and 42 minutes.

The Olympic sailed from Southampton on noon of June 14, stopping at Cherbourg and Queenstown, and was sent away from each of the ports with great enthusiasm. Although no effort was made at great speed, as it is inadvisable to overtax new engines on a first trip, the new liner is several hours ahead of time on her arrival here.

The vessel is so big that at the time she was launched, there was no dock long enough in New York to receive her and it was necessary to obtain special permission from the war department to lengthen the pier of the White Star line to 1,000 feet. The ship's length over all is 882 1/2 feet, or 171 feet longer than the highest building in New York, the Metropolitan tower, is high.

The vessel's gross tonnage is 45,000 as against the 32,500 tons of the Lusitania and the Mauretania, which have until now held the record for size. The Titanic, a sister ship to the Olympic, is now being built, but the race for leadership is so keen that two other ships are already planned to eclipse them, the Aquitania, which the Cunard line is building three feet longer and 5,000 tons greater, and the Hamburg American line ship Imperator, whose length will be 890 feet and tonnage 52,000.

Lord Pirie of Harland & Wolff, builders of the Olympic, says there is no structural reason why 100,000-ton ships should not be built, and he believes the superior economy of the big ship will force them soon. The Olympic represents an investment of $10,000,000 and among the unique features of her construction are Turkish baths and a swimming pool. Five hundred and ten saloon passengers made the maiden voyage. There were 275 passengers in the second cabin and 575 in the steerage.

BOUT CALLED A DRAW.

Laconia, N. H., June 21.—For two hours and thirty-three minutes Fritz Hanson of Burlington, Vt., welterweight champion and John Kilonis, the Greek wrestler of Manchester, battled on the mat last night at Moulton opera house without a fall, and then both agreed that the match should be declared a draw.

The match was by far the best exhibition of wrestling seen in this city this season and the admirers of the sport were kept on edge from start to finish. The men wrestled for two hours and seventeen minutes and then rested for ten minutes. After sixteen minutes more of effort, it being then past midnight, they agreed on calling the bout a draw.

The men were matched to wrestle to a finish for $100 a side.

LIGHTNING HIT STEEPLE.

Went Down in and Disarranged Works of the Town Clock.

Vergennes, June 21.—A short, though heavy, electrical storm passed over here yesterday morning and the rain fell in torrents. The spire of the Congregational church was struck by lightning, tearing off slate, damaging the grating that runs the hands of the town clock and doing some damage to the electric lighting apparatus of the church.

During the same storm a locust tree near the residence of William Birkett was struck by lightning. Descending the tree the bolt followed a wire clothes line attached to the tree, to the rear of the house and leaving a post where the line ended, spent its fury in demolishing the steps to the back porch. Mrs. Birkett and daughter were standing on the porch a short distance from the steps and sustained a severe shock.

DIED OF OLD AGE.

Augustus P. Hunton Died at Bethel Yesterday.

Bethel, June 21.—The death of the Hon. Augustus P. Hunton, aged 93 years, occurred at his home yesterday. Dr. William Stickney of Rutland, who attended him, says that he had no disease and died of old age. He was confined to his room just a month. He was the oldest person in town and by common consent was the town's first citizen. He came here to practice law in 1838, having been born in Groton, Vt., February 23, 1816, and having spent most of his time in Hyde Park. He practiced a year at Stockbridge before settling in this village for a career, which will probably always be unique in legal annals here. There must be few men anywhere who have maintained an office for 73 years in the same village.

Mr. Hunton was an ardent patriot and during the Civil war served diligently as superintendent of recruiting for Windsor county. He was a power in local and state political affairs at the same period. He served eight times as representative in the legislature and three times as senator. He was speaker of the House in 1860 and 1861, including the special session of April, 1861, when war appropriations were made. In 1875 he became associated with W. B. C. Stickney in law practice and the partnership continued till his death. He had previously been associated as partner with several of the best known lawyers of the time, including the late Hon. Julius Converse, governor of Vermont from 1868 to 1874. Among those who studied in his office were the late Col. Stephen M. Pingree and ex-Governor Samuel Plimpton of Hartford. Mr. Hunton was a delegate to the Republican national convention of 1864, which nominated Abraham Lincoln.

He married in 1849 Caroline Paige, daughter of Dr. Alfred Paige of Bethel, who died many years ago. He is survived by a daughter, who is the wife of W. B. C. Stickney, and by a sister, Mrs. Mary Parker, widow of the Rev. S. A. Parker.

DEATH WAS PECULIAR

Because of It, Autopsy Was Performed on William Remillard's Body.

St. Albans, June 21.—William Remillard died early yesterday morning presumably from acute alcoholism. Owing to Remillard's sudden death, he having been around as usual until within eight hours of his death, an investigation was held by State's Attorney G. M. Hogan, followed last evening by D. F. H. Stone and his assistants from the state laboratory at Burlington. The stomach and its contents and other organs were removed for investigation and analysis, when the cause of death will be determined.

Remillard, who was 34 years old, had a wife and four children, and for some time had been a very hard drinker. Of late he had been employed at the Van Camp packing plant. It is said that he drank large quantities of liquor Saturday and Sunday, at which time he was very ugly, kicking his wife and children out of doors and throwing things at them after them. Monday he was very sick from over indulgence and finally, towards evening, went to bed, where he was found shortly afterward by a daughter, who, from his appearance, thought him dead.

Dr. Perrault was summoned and was able to relieve the man somewhat, but he finally died after midnight. His condition was so peculiar, showing evidences of poisoning, that the autopsy was decided on.

REPLY TO CHALLENGE.

He Says Barre A. C. Is Ready to Talk Business About Ball Games.

Editor, Barre Daily Times: I trust that you will for this (and only this) time permit me to make a reply to Mr. F. Colombo, manager of the I. A. C.

In yesterday's issue of your paper it states "Mr. Colombo of the I. A. C. to O. to-day issues a challenge to the Barre Athletic club to play a series of five games for the championship of the city or state, the winning team to take all the receipts or 75 per cent." The manager states that this challenge is final and, if not accepted immediately by the Barre team, he will not challenge again. Both clubs have a strong team this year and if they get together Manager Colombo says that the fans can be assured of some good sport. In reply will say: I am not out for the championship of the state. The reasons I need not give to the posted fans, but I am certainly ready to battle for the championship of the city, but not for the "winner to take all the receipts or 75 per cent."

Mr. Colombo, where does the other 25 per cent. go to? This challenge of yours is final, is it? Well, where or when did you ever challenge the Barre A. C.? On the other hand, can you deny the fact that the Barre A. C. wanted to arrange a series of games with you, and also to make conditions or arrangements so that in arranging games with outside teams, both teams would not conflict with each other? And you turned us down, saying you would not play the Barre A. C. mostly on account of a couple of players who were on the Barre A. C. Those players are still on the team. Why this change, all of a sudden? Surely I am surprised. Have you finally decided that if the two teams come together the fans will be assured of some good sport? I am pleased that you have grasped it at last. Get your dates ready and name a good common sense proposition, and I'll give it my careful attention. Let's not begin this paper talk, but act. This is final for me, through the paper.

T. Gabbelloni, Manager.

President Eastman of Vermont Pharmaceutical Assn.

TO HIS FELLOW DRUGGISTS

Annual Meeting of State Association In

Burlington To-day Was Attended by 130 Delegates From All Over the State.

Burlington, June 21.—The opening session of the eighteenth annual convention of the Vermont Pharmaceutical association was held to-day at the hotel Vermont, with an attendance of one hundred and fifty. The annual address of the president, W. B. Eastman of St. Johnsbury, was given this morning. The report of the secretary, W. E. Terrill, of Montpelier, showed a total membership of 324, which is the largest number in proportion to druggists of any state in the union.

President Eastman pleaded for cleaner stores and shorter hours for druggists and he deprecated the practice of substitution in the sale of standard articles as dishonest and advocated co-operation among members of the association. He scored sharply the druggists who sell liquor illegally and he thought all druggists would be better off if they let the rum business alone. He blamed public sentiment for the present condition in this regard.

During the afternoon yesterday the druggists arrived in considerable number on every train. Dinner was served at the Vermont from six o'clock until 7:30, and immediately after this there was a reception in the hotel parlors by President W. B. Eastman of St. Johnsbury and other officers of the organization.

A lecture by Dr. H. H. Rusby, dean of the Columbia university College of Pharmacy in New York City, was scheduled for nine o'clock, and was to have been given on the roof garden of the hotel. But at the last moment, it was found that the lighting connections there would not permit the use of the stereopticon.

After a delay of about one hour, the Bijou theatre was obtained for the lecture, and at the close of the regular evening performance there, at 10 o'clock, Dr. Rusby spoke in a very interesting and instructive manner upon his travels through South America.

He said that the trip which he took in South America was made particularly for the study of the kola plant. He made his travels especially clear by the use of a map showing the regions visited and the route taken through them. Speaking of climatic and weather conditions there, he said that "in the dry season it rains every day, but in the wet season it rains all the time." Pictures and full descriptions made very clear the means of transportation employed in various parts of the continent, and the difficulties of travel there. The speaker also told of his experiences among the natives, and he contrasted the different races and types inhabiting the country.

Dr. Rusby brought out in a most striking way the peculiar situation of the city of La Paz, which is located in a deep depression in the mountains. Here is found the source of the Amazon, so narrow that a man can easily step across the little stream, although this great river, at its mouth, is 150 miles in width, and contains an island as large as the kingdom of Portugal.

One view showed a flower so immense that it constituted an entire armful of itself, and other pictures showed the trees from which quinine and rubber are produced. Some of the big trees growing in South America date back to a period before the time of Christ, and in the Canary islands there are trees believed to be 6,000 years old.

The speaker told of a man who drank the milk of the rubber tree by mistake, and died from the effects of the solid mass that soon formed in his interior. Of special interest to druggists was Dr. Rusby's discussion of coca and coca plant. He said that the word "coca" is a corruption of "cacao," and that this plant is entirely distinct from the coca and coca plants. From the last named is produced cocaine.

STREET CAR HIT AUTO

Both Vehicles Were Somewhat Damaged in the Collision.

While Henry Gallison of Williams-town was backing an automobile out of the driveway in front of Jones & Nye's stable shortly after 7 o'clock this morning he ran the rear wheels of the auto onto the electric car tracks and stopped. An electric car was approaching at a fast clip, and before Gallison could change the gears and start ahead again, the electric car struck his machine with such force that the rear springs of the auto were broken and the body was ripped off the springs. The motorman put on the brakes as soon as he saw that the auto was not going to get out of the way and after it struck the car to a stop just after it struck the auto. The fender of the car was torn off by the collision.

Another auto accident happened yesterday afternoon on Washington street, when O. H. Perry collided with a telephone pole. The accident was caused by a dog running at the auto and the driver, in attempting to dodge the animal, lost control of the car and it went out of the road and head-on into a telephone pole. Seekers for License to Sell Fireworks

Must Satisfy the Chief of Police Regarding Fitness of Location and Other Details.

Reports of committees took up much of the time of the city council at its regular meeting last evening, and at its close the board of aldermen was called together by President Thurston to act on an appointment by the mayor naming James P. Marr as cemetery commissioner to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Harry W. Whitcomb. On vote being taken, the aldermen confirmed the appointment, four in favor to two against.

The aldermen also instructed the city clerk to communicate with the Barre railroad in regard to moving the Shepard house on Prospect street so that the city can lay out the street over the old river bed. This matter was brought up by Alderman Willey, who stated that the work of filling the river was now so far advanced that the street will soon have to be laid out, and the Shepard house is in the way of the proposed entrance from Prospect street.

The city clerk reported that in order to comply with the new law that city and town treasurers' offices shall be provided with the necessary weights and measures for testing purposes, the city would have to get a few more weights and measures and a balancing scale to add to what there already is at the treasurer's office to make the equipment complete. On motion of Alderman Willey the matter was left with the clerk to find out what the expense would be to complete the equipment.

It was also voted that the committee of the whole meet at 11 o'clock this morning to confer with L. M. Seaver, representative of the National Humane Alliance society, in regard to the location of the new watering tub at City square which the society presented to the city last winter.

At the meeting of the council the question of maintaining a safe and sound fourth of July in Barre was brought up by the city clerk and the council voted to adopt the same regulations as were in force last year, which in substance are that the sale of fireworks shall be confined to the hours of midnight to midnight of July 4, and that all applications for licenses to sell fireworks shall be referred to the fire chief who shall inspect the location and recommend whether a license shall be granted. It is also further stipulated that giant fire crackers of more than five inches in length, pistols, canes, etc., using blank cartridges or caps, shall not be sold.

The street committee reported in favor of straightening Newton street as requested by G. L. Gregoire, and that the exchange of land necessary for the work be made. On motion of Alderman Willey the report was accepted and the recommendations ordered carried out. The street committee also recommended that the petition for a sewer extension on Valley street to accommodate the house of Santa Manera be granted. The engineer estimated the cost at $425. On motion of Alderman Willey the sewer was ordered extended.

The following building permits were ordered granted: T. G. Verner to build a piazza on Warren street
